

A great, Green for Life promo opportunity:

Personalized, reusable tote bags

As businesses become more hi-tech, the effectiveness of a touchable advertising medium stands out as a constant reminder of both the advertiser's name and product or service

Reusable tote bags are a great marketing and advertising tool in the recovering economic environment. Buying the bags will get your company name 'out there' every day of every week, all year 'round, and will be used and seen by shoppers and the general public. This is a great to give-away for client appreciation — and great for re-connecting with past clients as well, which will help with referrals and new jobs.
